

Report

Group: SE-2419

Name: Galymzhan Bekbauly

https://github.com/Bekbauly/Software_Design_Patterns_Assik2

Conclusion

The Factory and Abstract Factory patterns helped me design a clear and organized structure for my project. In this case, the pattern was applied to the Doner class, making it possible to create different styles and variations of doners (for example, beef or chicken, spicy or regular). This approach ensured flexibility in combining ingredients, simplified the process of adding new types, and supported the principles of scalability and maintainability discussed in the lecture.